

Obituary

Born: Thursday, June 27, 1935

Died: Monday, March 27, 2017

SALISBURY:

On the afternoon of Monday, March 27, 2017, Theo Fuller Lowell gently passed away surrounded by her loved ones at the UVM Medical Center in Burlington, Vermont.

Theo was born in Shoreham, Vermont to Gladwyne B. Fuller and Clement James (Jim) Fuller on June 27, 1935. She attended Burdett College in Boston, Massachusetts for business. She had a long career as a realtor working alongside her second husband Forrest Lowell doing Real Estate and Auctions, antique appraising, and owned the Lady Fair Beauty Shop for many years. She had her Auctioneer's license and did a few auctions herself, as well. She most recently was in business as owner of D&F Excavating and Paving with her husband, Gary, and stayed involved with the business until her passing. She enjoyed being very busy and enjoyed her family and friends, having coffee at Rosie's and Kampersville, feeding the birds, and had an amazing sense of humor that everyone enjoyed. She was extremely intelligent and always had the answer for everything.
